BRYAN TRAVELS CANDIDATE AROUND THE BUCKEYE STATE

And Meets with Thousands of Enthusiastic Republicans in the Course of His Journey.

M'KINLEY MEN SO PLENTY

THAT THE POPOCRAT FOUND IT NEC-ESSARY TO TALK TO THEM.

Another Speech to "Ladies Only," This Time at Youngstown, on Missionaries.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SANDUSKY, O., Oct. 20 .- William J. Bryan spent another day in the Buckeye State, preaching free silver and repudiation. At some places he met a cool reception, and at others there were very fairsized crowds of Popocrats. He did not reach this city until late to-night.

at Bellaire. Republicans were more numerous than Popocrats in his audience. The orator told his listeners that free silver (50-cent dollars) would be a blessing to the workingman, the farmer and the business man. At Bridgeport yellow badges (without the word "nit") and shouting Republicans were in evidence. At Martin's Ferry gold badges were so plenty that Mr. Bryan said anybody in the country could take the gold cure who wanted and then repeated his stale story about the Nebraska woman who said her brother was a gold man without any gold. Brief stops were made at Yorkville and Brilliant, but the candidate did not speak. At Steubenville, where one of General Alger's party attacked Mr. Bryan's pension record yesterday, a fair crowd was assembled. A few hoodlums near the speakers' stand kept shouting for McKinley and Mr. Bryan said: hear one of our friends who believe in free speech over there suggesting Mex-ico. When people tell you that Mexico has free silver you will remember that Turkey has been one of the longest standing gold standard countries and if I had to choose between the standard of Mexico and the standard of Turkey I would go and live in Mexico before I would risk living in Here there was a disturbance on the outskirts of the crowd and Mr. Bryan said, "My friends, I am surprised at these inlieves in a gold standard and I will show you a man who is afraid of public discussion because the gold standard dare not meet public discussion. We are leaving those who accuse us of being Anarchists to interfere with public meetings and to prevent discussion of an issue that conevery man, woman and child in the The speaker then defended record on the pension question. At East Liverpool, the city of potteries, there was so much cheering for McKinley that Mr. Bryan's voice was drowned by the hurrahs. The next stopping place was at Rochester, Pa., and there the Republicans accorded the orator a hearing. It was then noon. Brief halts were made at New Brighton and Kenwood.

TO "LADIES ONLY."

Hypocritical Appeal at Youngstown in Behalf of Missionaries.

The special train reached Youngstown, O., at about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A big crowd greeted Mr. Bryan there, marching clubs from Pennsylvania towns helping to swell the throng from various Ohio towns. The candidate made three speeches, one of them to "ladies only." To Details of the Horrible Afrocities the women he said: "I have, in the discussion of the question, used language as emphatic as I could command to show to the people what the gold standard means. My friends, I think that I have exhausted the powers for discussion in trying to describe what must be the result, not only to the people of this city, but to all months. but to all mankind all over the world If this system is to be chained to the people of the United States, if money is to be made the only thing desirable and all man-kind must gather around the auction block and bid, lowering and lowering the prices of products of toll in order to get smaller and smaller proportion of this one thing which many people seem to idolize, but they come to call your attention to a new danger. I have said that civilization itself was involved in the settlement of this question: I believe what the historian says that the dark ages came upon the world as the result of a decreasing volume of the world's money, and, my friends, I think I can see in the signs of the times, in legislation that makes the rich richer and the poor poorer, the entrance upon another period of the dark ages, unless the manhood and the womanhood of this Nation rise to take it from the grasp of those who have so legislated that they might rise above their fellow-man." Mr. Bryan was then presented with an immense basket of white and yellow chrysanthemums in bunches of sixteen white ones to one yellow. The presentation was made by two little girls dressed in white and yellow. Mr. Bryan, after acknowledging the gift, said:

My friends, last Sunday morning I heard a sermon appealing to Christian people to support the home missionaries, and in the course of that sermon the pastor read a letter just issued by the Presbyterian board of home missions from its office, No. 156 Fifth avenue, New York, and in this letter the surprising statement was made There is due to all missionaries and teachers from three to six months' salaries for services faithfully rendered. Not a few of them are in conditions of real distress. Is to subject these self-denying men and their families to all this? then in the letter there are quotations from letters received by this board from those missionaries telling of the conditions which surround them, and one man speaks of the fact that there is no money in the community and he could not borrow even for good scennity, and they were above to be seen t good security, and they were charging 10 per cent. per month on loans. Another man writes that in the family they have one hundred persons-it is a school-and not a dollar to provide food for them, and there are some doots back of that. One writes: I have not a dollar to meet any emergency that may arise and our family and the conditions of the school are desperate.'
"Nothing has stirred my indignation more in this campaign than that the money changers send money to the churches and missionaries begging them to stand by the gold standard and help them perpetuate a telegraphed from Paris at the time of the system of financial bondage. This missionary letter was written by the board to the churches in order to secure some assistance churches in order to secure some assistance for those who are now suffering. Those letters show that the missionaries in the field are behind with their pay, that the communities cannot pay them, and the result must be that these missionaries must be withdrawn and that the work of preaching the religion must be retarded because greed and avarice are enthroned in a government; those who are rich want to be richer regardless of the disaster that comes to them. So that, my friends, this question was first a political question, and which as an economic question has become a great moral question as well. "The corporation is different from the in-dividual. The individual being responsible for what he does is deterred from acts of oppression that the corporation undertake without suffering of conscience because the corporation has no conscience. The corporation is a fictitious person. It cannot be punished as an individual can. It is operated by agents for the most part, and the directors and stockholders have but a remote influence in conducting them, and

and when we protest against the spollation of society they call us Anarchists and dis-turbers of the peace and stirrers up of dis-content. I want you to love law and order. I want you to love peace and security and to understand that the greatest menace to law and order and the greatest menace to peace and security is found not in the hum-ble violators of the law, but in those great corporations that assume to be greater than the government itself."

Bryan's next stop was at Alliance, in McKinley's own county, where he spoke to workingmen. At Ravenna and Kent brief speeches were also made. The arrangements at Akron were bad. The candidate could not even get to the carriage provided for him, but had to catch one on the out-skirts of the town. After leaving Warren Mr. Bryan addressed audiences at Medina, Elyria and Sandusky. The latter place was reached late at night, and then the candi-date found he was billed for another speech or two at Tiffin. It was early morning when they arrive there, and notwithstand-ing the fact that . Bryan had been ing the fact that

INHALED COS AND DIED.

Suicide of a Pretty Woman in Her New York Apartments.

NEW YORK Oct. 20 .- Mrs. Barbara Orr was found dead in her apartments, in East Ninth street, to-day. She had inhaled gas and it is thought there is no doubt that she committed suicide. Mrs. Orr went to her late stopping place three weeks ago and secured a room. She sought work, but failed to secure employment. It is said she spoke frequently of expecting a letter and day by day as it failed to come her spirit seemed to forsake her and she became despondent. Last night a letter came and she eagerly took it from her landlady and went to her room to read it. Mr. Bryan made his first speech to-day | Evidently it was disappointing because she to-day, went out into town and returned about 9 o'clock and went to her room. Soon the odor of gas was noticed. Mrs. Orr's door was found locked, but from the transom a servant saw her stretched out on the bed fully dressed, with a rubber tube from the gas jet stuck in her mouth. She was unconscious. A physician was called, but she died without regaining consciousness. A dispatch from Providence, R. I., says; Mrs. Barbara Orr, who committed suicide in New York city, was a resident of this ity, and, although only twenty-five years old, had a romantic life. When scarcely nineteen years old she married a Mr. Barstow, of this city, but lived with him only two years, and then a divorce was obtained. A year after she went to Chicago, where she married Dr. Orr, of that city, out upon his death, about a year ago, she returned East, and has since lived with her sister. She had always been particularly attractive, and during recent residence here she had nucallers. A gentleman Fall River, however, seemed to be pre-ferred, and about a month ago Mrs. Orr suddenly left home, and, without saying anything to her sister, went to Fall River. She came back in a few days, suffering from an overdose of laudanum, and later talked of suicide. When she again disappeared, her sister gave up all hope of seeing her alive, and was not therefore sur-prised when she heard of her death. Mrs. Orr is described as being a very beautiful woman. Her sister will take steps to have the body brought back to Providence.

IN THE HANDS OF JONES, THE POPO-CRATIC NATIONAL CHAIRMAN.

FUSION KILLED IN GEORGIA

POPULIST PROPOSITION REJECTED BY THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

Former Wanted All the Electors to Vote for Bryan and Watson, and the Latter Would Not Consent.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 .- George F. Washburn, of the Populist national executive committee, arrived here unexpectedly this evening from Thomson and Atlanta, Ga., where he and committeeman H. W. Reed had been in conference with Mr. Watson, Populist vice presidential nominee. Dispatches were received from Atlanta to-night saying that the Populist-Democratic fusion conference had been a failure, the Georgia Demobecame more despondent. She rose early cratic committee to-day having positively refused to accept the Populist plan for fusion in that State. When informed tonight of the failure of the conference Mr. Washburn expressed no surprise. As he was to have remained in Atlanta to be present at that conference, his sudden change of base was the cause of no little speculation in political circles this evening. It is stated on good authority that Mr. Washburn returned so suddenly for the purpose of conferring with Chairman Jones, of the Democratic national committee, and to place before him in the form of an ultimatum two or three propositions from Mr. Watson looking to the latter's recognition on the fusion ticket in the different States. It is expected that should Mr. Jones refuse to favorably consider these propositions, securing for Mr. Watson what he believes to be his rights in the matter, sensational developments will follow. It is stated that Mr. Watson is prepared, in the event of Mr. Jones's refusal, to take a position which will prove the political sensation of the campaign. Mr. Washburn when seen this evening refused either to confirm or deny this story. He said, however, when asked if he had seen Mr. Watson's letter of acceptance:

> "Yes, I saw a copy. It is interesting poright. He goes to-day to Alabama, then to mitte Tennessee and then to North Carolina, and as the convention city by a vote of 21 to 5 the character of his addresses will depend upon the results of my efforts. He will wait to hear from me." "Were the results of your visit to Mr.

Watson satisfactory?" he was asked. "Yes, indeed. We delivered to him the written report sent by his executive which summarized the work of the committee and consulted with Mr. Watson regarding the closing days of the campaign and the future of the party. Mr. Watson's position is misunderstood. He will not be ignored, and his persistency in claiming the rights of his party has placed him in a false light. He is a statesman rather than a politician. His ideas are high and noble, his convictions are strong, and hav-ing always been opposed to fusion on prin-ciple, he has little sympathy with the methods of practical politics which involves fusion, even though temporary suc-cess may be achieved. In the present cam-paign he appreciates the necessity of making such arrangements as will unite the silver forces. He wants Bryan elected and McKinley defeated, but to accomplish this he thinks there must be an honorable union. union of forces rather than a surrender, and that his party must be recognized in this fight or the fusion arrangements in the different States will not be ratified by the people at the polls. The nomination he received at St. Louis was forced upon him to unite our forces, and being at the head of a larger force than that which elected Lincoln he demands recognition and vindication or he will fight. His Southern pride is aroused, and he would rather be vindicated in his own town, in his own district, in his own State and in the Nation than be Vice President." "If he cannot be Vice President, would he accept a Cabinet position?" was asked.

"No; he would not if it were tendered him. He is anxious that his party should come out of this contest in a manner which will reflect honor upon it, and he will enter actively into the campaign for the election of Bryan if such arrangements can be made as will satisfy his people. He aptly puts it thus: 'Wellington and Blucher can whip Napoleon, but Wellington wants Blucher's forces without Blucher.' He concedes that in any event part of Blucher's forces will go to Wellington, but with Blucher at the head of his army every man would fight with new inspiration and the result would be certain victory. I believe that should Watson issue a thrilling proc lamation to his party to line up for Bryan it would be worth more than the efforts of a thousand speakers. The danger to-day is the stay-at-home vote of the middle-of-theroad Populists. His pen could bring out the last man, and now that all the others have given up, I have undertaken the task of bringing this about, and I believe I will be successful."

A short conference between Senator Jones and Mr. Washburn was held to-night, but both gentlemen declared that nothing of importance was done. It is understood that Mr. Washburn submitted his propositions to the Senator to the Senator, but that the latter asked for time in which to consider them.

NO FUSION IN GEORGIA.

Proposition of Populists Rejected by the Democrats.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20 .- The Populists and the Democrats are as far apart tonight as ever on the fusion question, and it now looks like neither State committee would get together.

To-day marked the expiration of the five days' period which the Populist State central committee gave the Democrats in which to decide on their proposition for a fusion Bryan and Watson ticket, made up of seven Democratic and six Populist electors. It was to decide on this proposition that the Democratic State executive committee and the Democratic electors were summoned to meet at the party headquarters at noon to-day. At the same hour a block away, the Populist State central committee was assembled. Early in the due to nicotine poisoning. allies, we do now withdraw the following electors: William H Felton, State at large; H. C. Newton. Second district; Thomas B. Davis, Fourth district; W. S. Whittaker, Sixth district; J. J. Green, Eighth district; William Landsdell, Tenth district; W. M. Bennett, Eleventh district; and insist that the Democratic party of Georgia withdraw six of their electors, substituting the remaining six Populis' electors, with the understanding that the thirteen shall cast their vote for Bryan

"Resolved, That if the Democratic party does not accede to the foregoing just and reasonable proposition within five days from date, then be it "Resolved, That our central committee is authorized and empowered to withdraw, if advisable, our remaining electors or reinstate those who are now withdrawn, and that we concentrate every effort of our party in the election of our congressional There was a buzz following the reading of the Populist proposition which indicated strong disapproval of it. The speeches were all against it. In fact, the resolution and refusing Populistic proposition was offered by none other than Chairman Jones's personal representative, who favored it yes erday, but who to-day claimed that he had been under a misapprehension as to what the Populists wanted. He said he had no idea when he came down here at the suggestion of Chairman J. K. Jones that the Populists wanted thirteen electors for Watson. He thought they would pro-pose some fair division which would not totally ignore the candidacy of Vice President Sewall. It was quite evident that the committee regarded the proposition as preposterous and that about the only thing left for discussion was as to the character of the reply to be sent to the Populists whether it should be polite and concila-tory or plain and to the point. The Georgia member of the national committee, who had come to force fusion himself, offered the following resolution opposing it, which

Resolved. That the Populist committee having made a proposition which complete-ly ignores fusion by eliminating entirely the candidacy of the Democratic nomine for Vice President, Mr. Sewali, and has cut off the l'emocratic committee from fur-ther consideration of the question by fixing an arbitrary limit which expires to-day, giving this committee no opportunity for consideration of a movement for proper fusion, therefore be it "Resolved, That the chairman of this committee appoint a committee of five, of which he shall be chairman, to properly present to the public the attitude of this committee on the refusal to accept the nreasonable and unjust ultimatum of the Populist committee, clothed as it is in offensive and unbecoming language.

In explaining his action the Georgia member of the national committee said. I got a telegram about fusion, and I thought it meant a division of vice presi-dential electors between the two parties. Senator Jones thought that was idea and wanted to see what could be done with it. I never had an idea that the Populists wanted as much as they did. To ignore the Democratic vice presidential candidate was, of course, quite out of the question

The committee adopted a resolution calling for a State convention, to be held in Atlanta on Nov. 20, to select four Democratic candidates for vacant places on the Supreme Court bench. The delegates to this convention are to be selected on Nov. litical reading. Mr. Watson's throat is all 14, either by primary or mass meeting, in the discretion of the various county committees. Atlanta was selected over Macon The Popocratic committee remained in session throughout the afternoon and resession throughout the afternoon and resumed the sitting after a brief recess for supper. Thomas E. Watson arrived from Thomson at 5:20 o'clock, and joined the committee. He declined all requests for interviews, and refused to say anything for publication concerning either his letter of acceptance or action of the Democratic State committee on fusion.

State committee on fusion. Watson's Name Not on Kansas Ticket. TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 20 .- The name of Thomas E. Watson, candidate as Democratic-Populist candidate for Vice President, has been nominally removed from the Kansas ticket of that party, in deference to the wishes of the Georgia nomince, ceived by the Secretary of State. As a Briedenthal, of the fusion committee, has filed mandamus proceedings in the Supreme Court to compel the Secretary of State to place Mr. Watson's name on the ilcket, notwithstanding the protest of Watson. The case will be heard on Wednesday. In the meantime, as the last day the Secretary of State had under the law to mail the certificates of nomination to various county clerks had arrived, that official has mailed such notifications. The name of Mr. Watson as vice presidential nominee was left off the fusion ticket, and in its place a etter bearing these words was inserted: "Mandamus proceedings have been commenced to compel insertion of Thomas E. Watson's name here. This may have to be done." The decision of the Supreme Court on the matter to-morrow is awaited with great interest.

MORRILL HONORED AGAIN. Re-Elected Senator by the Legislature of Vermont.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 20 .- Justin S. Morrill, of Strafford, was re-elected United States Senator from Vermont this afternoon. In the Senate no other name was presented and Senator Morrill received the entire thirty votes. In the House Mr. Morrill received 213 votes, and Herbert F. Brigham, of Bakersfield, Democratic candidate, received seventeen. In the joint Assembly to-morrow afternoon Senator Morrill's election will be formally made.

The honor paid to Senator Morrill by his native State to-day is an incident of more than usual interest. When on the 4th of March next he is formally inducted into the office which he has filled for thirty years he will commence a term which bids fair to break all records of membership in the national Senate. Mr. Morrill is eightysix years of age.

SPEECH BY INDIANA'S SOLDIER-AU-THOR TO A BIG CROWD.

Chicago Platform Denounced by Rt. Rev. George L. Seymour, an Illinois Bishop.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 20 .- The Alger party of campaigning generals was two hours late in reaching this city tonight. They were given a grand reception here with a torch-light parade and an audience that crowded the largest hall in the city, enthusiastically applauded their was the principal speaker. All were well received except General Marden, who started disorder by repeating the story about Bryan's having attempted a career on the stage and then as a playright and dramatic critic. When he declared that Bryan had been a fallure as a lawyer and Congressman, had become a peripatetic campaigner, he was interrupted by cheers for Bryan. The members of the party are all well except General Sickles, who is greatly fatigued. He was carried from the carriage to the stage in a chair, which he occupied while speaking. During the day speeches were made at Adrian, Hudson, Hillsdale and Kalamazoo. Atthe latter place the party of veteran campaigners was accorded a royal reception this afternoon. The crowd was not as large as that of Bryan day, but it was very enthusiastic. A chief feature was the parade of hundreds of old soldiers. Speeches were made by Generals Alger, Howard, Sickles, Stewart and by Corporal Tanner in Bronson Park to some four thousand people. The business and residence portion of the city were gayly decorated with flags and bunting in profusion, with Me-Kinley pictures in many windows. Gen, Lew Wallace spoke to-night to a crowded house. This evening there was a large torchlight procession, comprising hundreds of marching men, several hundred horsemen, with five bands. The train arrived in Allegan at 6:45, an hour and a half late. Fully 3,000 people were at the depot to greet the generals. The train pulled into the station amid cheers and booming of cannon, waving of banners, flags and torches and music. A committee of leading citizens and veterans welcomed the generals. General Alger spoke briefly and introduced Generals How-

The remainder of his letter is devoted to what he con-ceives to be the effort of the Democratic platform to array "class against class, em ploye against employer, and the West and South against the East." He asserts the tendency is revolutionary, and the men who preach such doctrine are "not aware of the ulterior results." He condemns particular-ly that plank in the Democratic platform referring to the United States Supreme Simon Bolivar Buckner, of Kentucky, candidate of the National Democratic party for Vice President, left for Milwaukee and the Northwest via the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at 1 p. m. to-day. General Buckner was accompanied by Mrs. Buckner, Simon Bolivar Buckner, jr., Ellis B. Usher, secretary of the national campaign committee, and J. J. Hogan, of La Crosse. General Palmer and Mrs. Palmer could not make the trip across Wisconsin with the dis-tinguished Kentucky warrior. They were called to Bloomington on Monday to attend the funeral of a near relative of General Palmer. General Palmer will leave Bloomington to-night and proceed direct to St. Paul, where he will join the special train and resume the journey through the States of Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa. Another disappointment in regard to the trip across Wisconsin came in the form of a telegram from Gen. Edward S. Bragg, the famous commander of the Iron Brigade, that it would be impossible for him, owing to a pressing professional engagement, to join General Palmer and General Buckner before Thursday.

FOR ENGLISH ENLIGHTENMENT.

British Writers Discourse Owlishly on American Politics.

New York Post. The process of explaining it to the Eng-ish has been extremely arduous in this campaign. Ignorance for ignorance, American innocence in regard to English poli ties is doubtless able to hold its own with speeches. Howard, Sickles, Marden, Alger, anything that foreigners can produce, but so solemn as Englishmen, or quite so credulous, in seeking or accepting light in their darkness. The rubbishy and misinformed letters on the situation which the London Times has published can be accounted for only on the supposition that, as Pascal's Jesuit maintained that any opinion of a Father must be valuable, the Times was convinced that any writer signing him-self "An American" must be wise, accurate and bursting with confidential information. The Spectator has as usual led all the other owls in sage blinking over Amerean politics. At the beginning it saw in Bryanism a new crusade, touched with supernal light and discovered the profoundest religious sentiment in the Western farmers who were going to spend their last cent in order to avoid paying their debts. About Eryan himself it knew little, but was sure from a study of his jaw and shoulders that he was just the man to do Apocalyptic things, Later on it seemed to discover that the crusade was petering out, as it were, but still thought that Bryan would be elected if he could carry New York and Pennsylvania. It admitted, in the best style of Spectator superiority, that all the American dispatches represented New York as absolutely certain to go for McKinley, but that was before the New York Democracy had indorsed Bryan, which, of course, changed the situation entirely. The Vermont and Maine elections meant nothing, for in November the honest-money Democrats would be "com-pelled" to vote for General Palmer, and so Bryan and McKinley would be left "face to face," which was an awful thing to con-

All this has helped to relieve the tedium of the campaign, but Mr. Francis H. Har-dy, who writes in the October Fortnighteasily surpasses all competing humors who have taken American politics for their theme. He is one of those dangerous men who have "inside" information con-cealed about their persons. A year ago he had in New York a confidential talk with had in New York a confidential talk with "one of the great unseen political forces of the Republic." Speaking as an old friend, Mr. Hardy asked this Democratic unseen force how things were looking for 1896. "Bad. No money within a hundred miles of headquarters." This was enough to set a man like Mr. Hardy to thinking. To his surprise he found that the "splendid place of electoral machinery award by the plece of electoral machinery owned by the Democratic party was open to attack from any force." Hew could it be otherwise when the "old and trained men" had neither money nor offices? They themselves confessed that CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Right Rev. George L. Seymour, of Springfield, Ill., bishop of the Episcopal Church, has written a letter to the gold-standard Democratic comm ttee, in which he denounces the Chicago platform in very forcible language. The Bishop says he takes no interest in politics under ordinary considerations, and has voted but meant simply to give Europe a good fright, and threaten free silver in 1900 if an international agreement was not forth coming in 1897 or 1898. But, unluckily, the "made a mistake in tactics," got together "a most unruly crowd" at Chicago, and suf-fered a defeat in Bryan's nomination "from which it will take them years to recover. If Englishmen, after this patient explana tion, do not understand our presidential campaign, we give them up. Has Had Enough "Reform."

Atchison Globe. Four years ago the writer of this voted for Weaver, believing that the Republicans of Kansas and of the Nation needed humiliating, and that a change of administration would be a good thing. The change of administration in Kansas was an unfortunate experiment, and it was not much better in the country at large. This year we intend to vote for McKiney. We were willing to give Populism and Democracy a trial, and they were not sat-isfactory. The Populist administration in Kansas was so disgraceful that two years later the Populist candidate for Governor was defeated. No intelligent person doubts that the Populist candidate for Governor of Kansas will be defeated this year. We regard Bryan as a Populist, pure and simple. We do not intend to vote for a simple. We do not intend to vote for a Populist administration in Kansas, and we do not intend to vote for a Populist administration for the Nation. We believe it is very important that Mc-Kinley carry Kansas. He will be elected, with or without the help of this State, and

Kansas should vote with Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa and New York, rather than with Arkansas, Texas, Alabama and Utah The Globe is in no sense a political paper. Ordinarily there is little difference between the parties, but this year there is a vast difference, and the intelligence, patriotism and integrity of the country are massed on the Republican side. Populism has become so bold that even the better class of Democrats are generally voting with the Republicans as a rebuke to the mistaken

And now it transpires that but a few weeks before the Chicago convention, probably while he was rehearsing the speech that made him the idol and the candidate of the Populists, he applied for a place as press agent of a traveling show. There is an imminent national peril in Bryan's doctrines, but the fact that an ignoble adventurer and ne'er-do-well can come by the nomination of a great party for our greatest office and actually win to his support whole States and millions of voters-these shameful things put upon us the greatest humiliation we have ever en-ago, on the political situation, it remains, so far as I am concerned, in full force. Developments of political matters, so far as observed by me, confirm me in all the statements I then made, and lead me to renew them to-day with yet stronger emphasis."

The real battle of this election will be fought neither in the extreme East nor in the outer West. It is in the middle West round Chicago—in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa—that the key of the position lies, and the candidate who carries these States will carry the country. these States will carry the country. As for this part of the country I need only quote the words of a gentleman encountered in the train: "Bryan? Bryan would stand no more chance in Maine than a paper man in which, with the 293,567 for the first day, hell." And if you weigh for a moment the gives Chicago a total vote of 383,515. The exact degree of chance a paper man would stand in that temperature you will get a rough measure of the prospects of free sil-
